How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a genéral family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

About Mutual Agreements.

There is a common agreement in the inviolability of mutual engagements, but there seems to be a peculiar breach of honor when two people have agreed to die together in one failing to keep his appointment. This not infrequently happens, and it has been remarked, as in the case of Mrs. Brundage and Mr. Clute, that it is the man who manages to keep his footing in this world. The question has arisen if on the man's part this is prompted in the spirit in which a man tells a woman he is going to the lodge, or to a neighboring town, or whether his failure to meet her or accompany her is due to lack of courage. This seems not only the most plausible but the most creditable answer.

It is not human to run to embrace death, but circumstances may make it a familiar presence. Every woman who has filled her allotted place in life has had at times to look death deliberately in the face. Familiarity with any situation divests it of its terrors. This is the reason why women meet death with more composure than do men. This by no means excuses men from fulfilling such engagements as that of Mrs. Brundage and Mr. Clute, in which the honor is especially involved, but it explains the defection of Mr. Clute and men of his kind.—Exchange.

Value of the Atmosphere.

Careful experiments have shown that the rate per second at which bodies acquire velocity in falling through the air is 32 feet per second at the end of the first second from starting. At the end of the next second it is going at the rate of 64 feet per second, and so on through the whole time of falling. Where the velocity is known the space through which the body has fallen may be ascertained by multiplying the velocity at that period by the number of seconds during which it has been falling and dividing the result by two. This rule applies, however, only to bodies falling through a vacuum.

The resistance of our atmosphere materially retards raindrops, hailstones, aerolites and all other bodies which fall through it, and were it not for the resistance it presents every rainstorm would be disastrous to the human race, as each drop would fall with a velocity great enough to penetrate the full length of a full grown man's body.—London Nature.

Shakespeare's Eyebrow.

Miss Sarah W Gillette of Evanston, Ills., rejoices in the possession of what she believes to be Shakespeare's eyebrow.

Miss G.'s father, the late Dr. H. C. Gillette, bought the relic from R. G. Oaks of England. In 1851 Oaks was deputed to carve an olive wreath to encircle a bust of Shakespeare. At that time the Duke of Devonshire owned the Kesselstadt death mask of Shakespeare.

This death mask had been discovered in a pawnbroker's shop in Kesselstadt and pronounced to be a Shakespearean mask.

Oaks was permitted to use the mask in making the laurel wreath. He says: "In my examination for the pores in the plaster, to decide whether the cast was original or not, I found two hairs of the eyebrow sticking in the cast. I extracted one entire; the other broke.

These are the fragments that are in possession of the Evanston lady.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

A Remarkable Funeral Procession.

When Tsching Tschu, the grand chamberlain and brother-in-law of Prince Kung of China, was buried, he was followed and preceded by a remarkable procession. The bier was carried by 80 men, each pair of whom had poles of different lengths under it. These 80 men were preceded by 46 flag bearers, 8 camels and 24 milk white horses. Behind the pallbearers came 160 men, each bearing their portion of 16 long planks. These planks or boards were painted red, and over this in yellow letters were the names and titles of the deceased nobleman.—St. Louis Republic.

An Enormous Balsam Poplar.

Near Geneva, N. Y., is a balsam poplar tree 120 feet high, diameter of the top 115 feet and with a trunk 23 feet in diameter. It is probably the finest specimen of this tree in the world. It is on the home grounds of Charles Bean, Esq. It has been taken for the common Canadian poplar, but Dr. Sweet is authority for the corrected name. It is believed to be about 100 years old and is called the century tree, but as this would make an average increase of nearly 3 inches in diameter a year it must be older than supposed.—Meehan's Monthly.

Whom to Consult.

Doctor (to patient)—What ails you?

Patient—Indeed I don't know. I only know that I suffer.

"What kind of a life do you lead?"

"I work like an ox, I eat like a wolf, I am as tired as a dog, and I sleep like a horse."

"In that case I should advise you to consult a veterinary surgeon."—Texas Siftings.

Willie Thought It Was "Jam."

"A door has two jambs. Write that on the blackboard, Willie." And Willie wrote, "A daw has two jambes," and his teacher had to admit that he was right.—Harper's Bazar.

EXAMINING A WITNESS.

How General Butler Discredited the Testimony of a Conductor.

General Butler as counsel for the plaintiff in a damage case against one of the Boston street railway companies, some years since, turned a point in his client's favor and won his case by an adroit and original move. The accident in question had taken place in a crowded street, and the testimony was contradictory and confusing. The conductor of the car, on the witness stand, swore point blank against the plaintiff. His evidence was concise, and he claimed to have seen all the occurrences of the affair and described them minutely, disputing the general's client at every turn. It was manifest that if the conductor told the truth the plaintiff had no case.

The general took up the cross examination, but the witness stuck to his story.

"What is that?" said the general, pointing to the bell punch suspended from the witness' neck.

"Bell punch," was the answer.

"And what is a bell punch?" innocently inquired the lawyer. And then followed a lengthy explanation of how the machine rang the bell to attract the passengers' attention that the amount was being recorded by the machinery on the inside. The whys and wherefores, the necessity for the thing and the company's rules were gone into until the court was well nigh out of patience and the jury were plainly wearying.

"And what do you do if a mistake is made and you come out short when you and the machine are at variance?" was the general's query.

"They make us pay the difference," was the answer.

"Won't they take your word for it?"

"No."

"Well, if they won't take your word for a nickel they needn't expect this jury to believe you," said the general, and they didn't, for they gave the plaintiff a substantial verdict."

I would not have my readers think the general intended any slur upon street car conductors, who are as honest and honorable as the rest of us. The general had a way of "getting there," no matter who was hit.—Boston Globe.

Fickleness, Thy Name Is Maine Girl!

The other day a Lewiston young lady made an agreement with one of her admirers to go out walking that evening. Later she met another, whom she invited to call that same evening. She had forgotten the first. Then when a third one of her beaux made his appearance she agreed to go walking with him. In the evening the first young man came for her. She went, and soon the second arrived, and being told that she was out he said he would go and meet her.

When she saw him coming, she remembered her engagement, excused herself from the first young man and walked with the second. They came to a confectionery store, and she remained outside while he went in after chocolates. The third young man came along while she waited, and she graciously promenaded off with him. Now she says she will be more careful of her appointments.—Lewiston Journal.

Pine Trees on Volcanoes.

Every one who admires trees must be interested in the result of Professor Heilprin's studies of the pines that clothe the slopes of the great volcanic mountains of Mexico.

These huge peaks seem to have pierced their way upward through a mantle of pine forest, which clings to their sides up to a height of nearly 3¾ miles.

The vertical range of the pine in Mexico is remarkable. It is found among the sun loving palm trees at the foot of the mountains, and it stands defiant of the cold close to the perpetual snows that cover their summits.—Youth's Companion.

Columbian Stamps For Etiquette.

An elderly lady in a modest manner leaned over the counter of a west end drug store, and pointing to a letter with a Columbian stamp asked:

"Will you please tell me if these stamps are good for just common use?" When assured that they were so intended, she bowed politely and remarked as she left: "I didn't know. I thought they were to be used perhaps for etiquette."

"I have to answer that same question 10 times a day," said the clerk, "but I wonder what she meant by etiquette."—Baltimore Sun.

Fast Talkers.

When Charles Mathews was in this country, the rapidity of his speech was a cause of much astonishment, but there was no loss of distinctness on that account. He was said to be the most rapid talker and singer on the stage. Sarah Bernhardt talks at a furious speed sometimes, but every speech that is to be spoken fast is practiced again and again, a little more quickly each time, in order to insure clearness of utterance.—New York Sun.

KINDNESS WELL REPAID.

How a Little Act of Consideration Won Distinction For a Traveler.

An Englishman making the grand tour about the middle of the last century, when travelers were more objects of attention than they are now, on arriving at Turin sauntered out to see the place.

He happened to meet a regiment of infantry returning from parade and took a position to see it pass. A young captain, evidently anxious to make a display before the stranger, in crossing one of the numerous water courses with which the city is intersected, missed his footing, and in trying to save himself lost his hat.

The exhibition was truly unfortunate—the spectators laughed and looked at the Englishman, expecting to see him laugh too. On the contrary, he not only retained his composure, but promptly advanced to where the hat had rolled, and taking it up presented it with an air of unaffected kindness to its confused owner.

The officer received it with a blush of surprise and gratitude and hurried to rejoin his company; there was a murmur of applause, and the stranger passed on. Though the scene of a moment and without a word spoken, it touched every heart, not with admiration for a mere display of politeness, but with a warmer feeling for a proof of that true charity "which never faileth."

On the regiment's being dismissed the captain, who was a young man of consideration, in glowing terms related the circumstance to his colonel. The colonel immediately mentioned it to the general in command, and when the Englishman returned to his hotel he found an aid-de-camp waiting to request his company to dinner at headquarters.

In the evening he was carried to court, at that time, as Lord Chesterfield tells us, the most brilliant court in Europe.

Of course during his stay at Turin he was invited everywhere, and on his departure he was loaded with letters of introduction to the different states of Italy.—Philadelphia Times.

What a "Plush Cut" Means.

Talk about the "Queen's English!" Men get up some perplexing questions. Here is a conversation I overheard at a theater the other night. Two gentlemen were back of me. One said to the other:

"Just look around. You can't see a plush cut anywhere." Plush cut? What did he mean? I looked around also. Evidently there were none in sight. His friend said:

"That's so. You don't see them much now. I presume they will come back again soon. They come in fads. One fellow who is popular takes it up, and the others are sure to follow suit." Curiosity had opened my ears at first. Desperation was straining them now.

"Yes, generally one bright fellow leads the style for the swim, and the fellows in other cliques take it up. A year ago in any auditorium in the city every fellow that pretends to keep up with the day wore his hair standing up in the most decided pompadour. Now they go to the other extreme—perfectly flat."

And so "plush cut" means hair cut a la pompadour.—Chicago Tribune.

Questions About Change.

Did you ever start out with more errands than you had time to do, grudging every moment of delay, and find yourself without your purse when the conductor called for your fare? Did you ever see a conductor hold the pennies that some other passenger gave in change till you passed up your coin and then work them off on you?

Did you ever think that you'd lost your purse and make frantic little dashes into any place that could hold it and presently find it where it belonged? Did you ever take perforated dimes and quarters in exchange for good coin? Still worse, did you ever hand up a coin in good faith and see the salesman ring it on the counter and say "N. G.?"—Boston Commonwealth.

How A. T. Stewart's Body Is Guarded.

The body of the late American millionaire, Alexander T. Stewart, was once stolen from the St. Mark's church graveyard in New York, and the robbers demanded a ransom for its restoration. The amount having been agreed upon and the body recovered it was deposited in a splendid crypt in the cathedral at Garden City, and in order to prevent any future body snatching the coffin is now in direct electric communication with the cathedral bells, which would sound an instant alarm if it were being tampered with.—Exchange.

A Latter Day Marriage.

Downton—So you are really going to be married?

Upton—Yes, it's all fixed. We've rented a furnished flat, and I've hired a dress suit for the occasion, and Marie has borrowed her cousin's wedding rig, and a new caterer has agreed to lend us his plaster of paris show cake, provided I mention his name in the papers.—New York Weekly.

H. H. GRANICE - - - - - - - - - - - - EDITOR

THOMAS. L. THOMPSON, editor of the Santa Rosa Democrat, has been appointed by President Cleveland Minister to Brazil. The salary of the office is $12,000 a year, with the privilege of a private secretary. Tom has been exceedingly lucky as a newspaper man and politician. He has been Secretary of State, a Congressman and has been a delegate to several National Democratic Conventions.

Do you want to see your town grow? Do you want to see it a prosperous community asks an exchange. If so, you must stop whittling up dry good boxes and roll up your sleeves and go to work to build it up. You must spend your dollars as well as your energy, for no town ever forged ahead without some expenditure of money. You must be wide awake and ready to seize all opportunities that will tend to further your town's advancement. Again you must all pull together. Don't put all your public improvements into a wagon and then let one man do the pulling, while you throw ropes and rocks in his way. When you have gained your victory then you may sing, "We'll jump into the wagon, and we'll all take a ride," but you must all harmoniously pull together and get the wagon up the hill. Prosperity very seldom comes to a town in a golden chariot where the people have sat down in the shade and waited with fans in their hands for good luck to come their way. The best golden chariot of prosperity nowdays comes from push, enterprise and the generous outlay of cash in public improvements If you want your town to grow, you must work for its progress and improvement. Do this and you will soon have a town that will amount to something and be worth living in besides. If you don't believe us, you can paste our article in your hat and use it for future reference.

New Road.

Judge A. P. Overton went down to the Glen Ellen Home with the Board of Supervisors on Wednesday, says the Santa Rosa "Democrat," for the purpose of viewing the proposed new road through the Home grounds, for which the right of way was granted at the last session of the Legislature. The proposed change follows the creek, leaving the old road just below the Chauvet wine cellar, and comes into the main road at the south gate, leading to the former residence of Wm. McPherson Hill. It cuts off the bend on the west side of the new buildings and one or two steep grades. It is a great improvement, both as to distance and grades, and we hope it will be accepted and approved by the Supervisors. While at the asylum Judge Overton laid off the ground for the proposed new girls' wing to the building, for which the contract will be let at a meeting of the Board of Trustees to be held in San Francisco next week.

Election of Officers

The following have been elected officers of Sonoma Grove, No. 75, U. A. O. D., to serve for the epsuing six months: E. Scrapellini, P. A.; Chas. Filippini, V. A.; G. Proletti, Treasurer; S. Cucci, Conductor; G. DeBernardi, Corr. Secretary; N. Codiga, Financial Secretary; A. Pera, I. G.; L. Nessi, O. G. Sonoma Grove has now a membership of nearly ninety and over $1,000 is in the treasury. No member of the Lodge has been on the sick list for nearly two years. It is the intention of the members to purchase a lot and erect a lodge building thereon as soon as a suitable site can be purchased at a reasonable figure.

Henry Maximilian, the young Indian who shot and killed another Indian named San Juan, near Healdsburg, a few months ago, was sentenced to Folsom for ten years by Judge Dougherty last Tuesday. Maximilian pleaded guilty to manslaughter. He is not out of his teens and had always borne a good reputation until he got into trouble with Juan. They quarreled over a pretty Indian girl, and Maximilian in a furious rage killed his rival.

GLEN ELLEN.

M. Brucker, lessee of the J. D. Bowen ranch, lost fifty chickens last week by coons and foxes.

Extensive preparations are in progress for the grand hop to be given by Grange to-morrow evening.

The teacher and scholars of Glen Ellen School will hold their annual picnic in the Graham Canyon next Saturday.

The Supervisors were down yesterday to view the road leading to the Home. They will undoubtedly make some needed changes on that highway.

Architects Copeland and Pierce of San Francisco were at the Home yesterday. They are about to commence the erection of a new wing to the building.

Jig dancing was one of the principal features of amusement at last Sunday's picnic. The music consisted of a bagpipe and the artist rendered everything from "Rory O'Moore" to the "Rocky Roads".

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Thousands of Singing Birds.

When the North German Lloyd steamer Herrmann unloaded on Saturday twenty large bundles shrouded in white cloth were carefully lifted from the hold and placed on the dock. From each bundle came a chorus of angry twitterings and chirpings and much fluttering of wings. The bundles were loaded on a truck and were taken to the store of a bird fancier in William street. There they were unloaded and the cloths removed. Each bundle contained 252 little wooden bird cages, each with a canary bird in it. Immediately every one of the 5,040 birds stretched his little yellow throat in an effort to outsing his neighbor. They caroled and trilled as merrily as if they were looking out on green heath and a blue sky instead of a muddy highway half obscured by a drive of wet snow. Three men undertook the task of giving the birds grain and water, and the operation consumed the major part of a day.

The canaries are of three grades—the $2.50 birds, the $3 [illegible] the $10 birds [illegible] worth $2.50. [illegible] twice [illegible] are made [illegible] come from [illegible] many. [illegible] numbers. It is probable that all of the 6,000 birds will be sold within a few weeks. This is the busy time in the canary market, and within the past week more than 10,000 of these birds have arrived classed as live stock.—New York Sun.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

We have made arrangements with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," which will enable all our subscribers to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address (enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing same) to DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., ENOSBURGH FALLS, VT. This book is now recognized as standard authority upon all diseases of the horse, as its phenomenal sale attests, over four million copies having been sold in the past ten years, a sale never before reached by any publication in the same period of time. We feel confident that our patrons will appreciate the work, and be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity of obtaining a valuable book.

It is necessary that you mention this paper in sending for the "Treatise." This offer will remain open for only a short time.

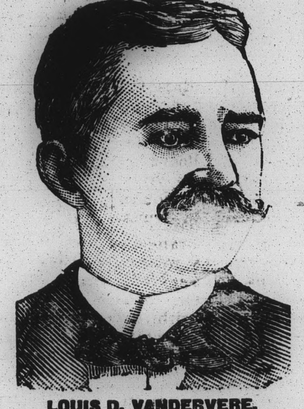

Preventing Future Misery.

If there is, in this vale of tears, a more prolific source of misery than the rheumatic twinge, we have yet to hear of it. People are born with a tendency to rheumatism, just as they are with one to consumption or to scrofula. Slight causes may develop this. As soon as the agonizing complaint manifests itself, recourse should be had to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which checks its further inroads and banishes the rheumatic poison from the system. This statement tallies exactly with the testimony of physicians who have employed this fine blood depurent in their private practice. There is also the amplest professional and general testimony as to the efficacy of the Bitters for malaria, liver complaint, constipation, indigestion, kidney trouble, nervousness and loss of appetite and flesh. After a weather, whether followed by a cold or not, the Bitters is useful as a preventive of the initial attack of rheumatism.

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of the vital organs. If the Liver be inactive, you have a Bilious Look; if your stomach be disordered you have a Dyspeptic Look and if your Kidneys be affected you have a Pallid Look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and Tonic and acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, Blotches, Boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at Ed. Wegner's Drug Store. 50c per bottle.

Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Gentlemen: I take pleasure in informing you of the very beneficial results which have followed the use of Dr. Miles' RESTORATIVE NERVINE in the case of myself and wife. For a year I was subject to a distressing pain at the base of the brain and upper portion of the spinal cord. I lost flesh and was greatly troubled with sleeplessness. Your Nervine was highly recommended to me. My case had been so obstinate that I had no confidence in the efficacy of any medicine. Yet as a last resort I consented to give it a trial. Much to my surprise, I experienced marked benefit; my sleeplessness disappeared; my headache was removed; my spirits and general health greatly improved. I SOON GAINED TWENTY POUNDS. ALL THIS OCCURRED AFTER LEARNED AND WELL KNOWN PHYSICIANS HAD FAILED. My wife is taking the Nervine with the best of results. LOUIS D. VANDERVERE.

BOGGS CARRIGER NOT GUILTY.

A Jury Decides that He Shot His Brother Accidentally.

A verdict of not guilty was rendered in the Boggs Carriger murder case last Saturday by the jury who had been setting on the case for several days, and the accused, who has been confined in the County Jail since last August, is now a free man. He was defended by Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento, Barclay Henley of San Francisco and R. M. Swain of Santa Rosa, the prosecution being represented by District Attorney Seawell, ex-District Attorney A. G. Burnett and J. R. Leppo.

The crime for which Boggs Carriger was tried was for shooting and killing his brother William on the Nick Carriger farm near this place on the night of the 29th of last August.

On the night in question the brothers William and Boggs together with Robt. Fowler were the only persons on the ranch. About 7 o'clock in the evening Fowler, who was in another part of the house, heard a pistol shot in the upper hallway and immediately after Boggs made his appearance at the head of the stairs and called to Fowler that he had shot William. Fowler went up stairs and assisted Boggs in placing his dying brother on a bed after which he was sent to town for a physician. Upon the arrival of the doctor, who was accompanied by several officers, they discovered that William was dead and Boggs was watching over the body. To all questions put to him he answered he had shot his brother accidentally. That he had a revolver in his hand and was going out to shoot a predatory animal that had been raiding their hen roost. That his brother, seeing he was under the influence of liquor, endeavored to take the weapon away from him, when it was prematurely discharged.

When the killing became known great excitement prevailed in this place. The deceased was a quiet and peaceable young man who had never had a row in his life. Boggs, on the contrary, was a wild harem-scarum fellow, addicted to occasional sprees and while in his cups was inclined to be quarrelsome, although no one in Sonoma Valley ever heard of him having any serious trouble with his brother William.

Feeling against Boggs ran high and as a result he was arrested and charged with murder, although there was really little or no testimony on which to hope for a conviction. The brothers had always been friendly and at the very time the killing occurred Boggs was on the ranch for the purpose of assisting William in defending his rights on the farm against his enemies, William at the time being a defendant in a bitter divorce suit which had been instituted by his wife.

Boggs' first trial, which took place about three months ago, resulted in the jury bringing in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. This verdict was set aside by Judge Dougherty, who sat upon the case, on the grounds of an error in instructing the jury. The second trial took place last week with the above result.

This case should be a lesson to young men to lead sober and exemplary lives. Had Boggs Carriger been a quiet, sober man he never would have been arrested for the killing of his brother, as everybody would have accepted his word for it, in view of any evidence to the contrary, that the shooting was accidental. But as he was addicted to drink and when under the influence of liquor inclined to be quarrelsome, he was arrested on general principles for a supposed crime which twelve men have just pronounced to be an accident.

Real Estate Picking Up.

The A. Brown place, situated a couple of miles northwest of Sonoma was sold this week to Capt. and Mrs. Oliver of England. The sale was effected by Capt. H. E. Boyes, who is associated with Scott & Jackson of London. The farm consists of 36 acres of highly improved land. The price paid is private but is understood to be in the neighborhood of $9000.

It is also reported that the C. F. Leiding place has been sold for $16,500 by J. T. Peters, the San Francisco real estate dealer. This latter transfer, however lacks confirmation.

Wine Shipment.

Martin Peter of Glen Ellen has commenced to ship 5,000 gallons of wine to this place, consigned to Dan. D. Davisson. This wine is said to be some of the best ever made in this valley. The figure paid by Mr. Davisson, who represents parties in the city, was a very fair one. Why don't we give you the exact figure do you ask? go to Dan and find out.

Mrs. R. D. Moore has sold out her business in Santa Cruz and will start in a few weeks for the East. Mrs. Moore formerly resided in Sonoma and is well known throughout this valley.

Miss Alice McRoberts came up from her home in the metropolis last Tuesday for a visit to Eden Dale Farm, and will remain several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Howe.

Mrs. M. A. Johnson, accompanied by her daughter Zelma, will leave Sonoma next week for the city of Fresno, where she will visit her daughter Mrs. Walchman (nee Luddington.)

Felix and other Paris courturiers still use the bell skirt, but with some slight differences. They have shortened the back to escape or else barely touch the floor, and they give greater width by adding a gored breadth in front.

Rev. Father Brennan, formerly pastor of St. Francis' Church in this place, and who has been confined in St. Mary's Hospital, San Francisco, for some time, is the guest of Mrs. Robt. C. Johnson at Buena Vista Park.

Miss Lola Haraszthy met with a painful accident on last Saturday afternoon. While ascending a ladder it suddenly gave way, throwing the young lady violently to the ground, spraining both of her ankles so badly that she will be confined to her home for some time.

Hon. T. J. Geary will address the Board of Horticulture at its annual session to be held in San Francisco on Monday next at 2 P. M. Mr. Geary will address the Board on the important need of the fruit-growers taking immediate action on the revision of the tariff on fruits.

Mrs. Bruns of San Francisco spent several days the past week as a guest of Mrs. Muser on her farm one mile south of town. Mrs. Bruns formerly resided with her husband at Embarcadero, at which place he conducted a store over twenty-five years ago.

Next week promises to be an interesting one for the school teachers of this county. The thirtieth annual session will convene in Santa Rosa next Monday and will continue throughout the week. Prof. Abshire has handed us a copy of the programme. Upon its pages we see the names of some of our most prominent instructors, among whom we may mention Prof. J. W. Anderson, David Jordan, State Superintendent of Palo Alto, and others At this session will be exhibited work from the different schools of the county. Sonoma has sent a splendid display and we feel sure that it will attract attention. It is said by those who have examined it that it will compete with any in the county.

Several of the residents of Embarcadero were treated to a seranade last Saturday.

Mr. Robinson is lying very ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Andrew Goess.

All living beings, plants or animals are very much influenced by their surroundings.

C. Weise is lying very low at his home near Glen Ellen with dropsy. His life is despaired of.

Miss Paulina Robin returned from a pleasant visit to the Bay City last Thursday evening.

Miss Lounibos, daughter of John Lounibos, went to Petaluma last Tuesday on a visit to her brother.

Granville Harris, accompanied by Wm. Linehan, visited Petaluma on business last Thursday.

Baker's new Photo Gallery on Napa street, Sonoma, is now in full blast. Call in and see the pictures. *

Mrs. Glaister, the estimable wife of T. S. Glaister, is lying very ill at her home four miles east of Sonoma.

Mrs. L. Adler, who has been spending several days of the past week in San Francisco, has returned home.

Mrs. E. K. Stevenot, accompanied by her daughter Miss Maggie, returned from a pleasant visit to the Bay City last Thursday evening.

Fine Cabinet Photographs, $3.00 per dozen; card size, $1.00 per dozen. At the new Photo Gallery on Napa street, Sonoma. *

Miss Zoe Clark has been selected by Mrs. Amelia Bates as assistant Postmaster at this place. Mrs. Bates, who recently received the appointment of Postmaster, will assume the duties of the office next month.

Rev. Father Sullivan, formerly of Sonoma, but now pastor of St. Josephs' church in Alameda, is making progress towards erecting a new church to supplant the present one, which is old and too small to accommodate the people of that parish.

Miss Margaret Burke, who has been teaching the Summit Joint school the past month, was thrown from her horse near Warfield station on Friday evening of last week and received injuries which has confined her to her parents' home in this place the past week.

The invitation party given by "The Bachelors" last evening at Union Hall was the social event of the season. The youth and beauty of Sonoma Valley were present and many of the costumes of the ladies were rich and costly. Mr. Carl Ludeman acted as floor manager. The music was furnished by Gutman & Johnson of San Francisco.

Mr. Clement J. Schuster, the well-known young society gentleman of Sonoma and San Francisco, was married to Miss Lavinia Gluyas in Nevada, Nevada county, last Wednesday. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's sister Mrs. Wm. G. Richards. Mr. and Mrs. Schuster have taken up their residence in San Francisco, where the former is engaged in business.

On Sunday last Mr. J. Gundlach, the well-known wine merchant, celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday at Rhinefarm near this place. A large number of the old gentleman's sons and daughters and grandchildren were present to do him honor. The reunion was a very enjoyable affair. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bundschu and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Dresel and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. Perutz, Mr. and Mrs. Leichter, Prof. and Mrs. A. Herbst. Misses Emily Wagner, Alice Wagner, Mary Schutze, Meta Schilling, Dora Schilling, Lina Frauenholz, Alla Frauenholz. Messrs. E. Schild, E. Stauf, A. Frauenholz, H. Gundlach.

The ladies of the Congregational Church gave an ice cream social last Wednesday evening in the lecture room under the church. This social drew together quite a number of the members and their friends who greatly enjoyed the pleasures of the evening to a late hour. Miss Clare Hope entertained those present with a piano selection, after which Mr. Chas. Lowell rendered a beautiful solo on the guitar and Mr. Howard Mumphrey played a pretty piece on the harmonica and autoharp, playing both instruments at the same time. At the conclusion of this short but select programme, the playing of games was engaged in by the happy youths and maidens. Ice cream and cake was served to all who wished to partake. The guests pronounced this social a most enjoyable affair.

MERCURIAL

Mr. J. C. Jones, of Fulton, Ark., says of S.S.S. "About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poison. Leading physicians prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remedies, with unsuccessful results, but which brought on an attack of mercurial rheumatism that made my life one of agony. After suffering four years I gave up all remedies and commenced using S. S. S. After taking several bottles, I was entirely cured and able to resume work. S.S.S. is the greatest medicine for blood poisoning to-day on the market."

STOVES AND CLEANLINESS.

One of the Advantages of Life In a Tenement House.

One reason for my preference for the large tenement is that it permits the elimination of the cooking stove from each household. "A home without a stove! Impossible!" I hear many exclaim. Not in the least impossible—and something for the very poor greatly to be desired. First, so far as heat is concerned, in a tenement house holding 50 or 60 families, heat may be supplied from a central source which would be far too expensive in a small tenement house of 8 or 10 families.

The poor usually buy fuel in small quantities at exceptionally high rates, and this amount, if added to their rent, would in a large tenement supply them with heat by steam or hot water, which would be far preferable for the following reasons: The storing of fuel and the carrying it up long flights of stairs by the hodful would be done away with, and the sending children out to gather kindling from wharves, streets and vacant lots, with the dirt and slovenliness and weariness which always attend such work, would be abolished.

No one who has not worked long among the poor can realize the serious drawback to good temper, comfort and cleanliness that the mere care of fuel, the cleaning of the stove, and the disposal of ashes involve with people who must eat, sleep, bathe and live around a coal stove three or four flights from the cellar or ash barrel, as is the case in the majority of our tenements. The waste in fuel is often appalling, due largely to ignorance about drafts and to letting the fire go out during a morning's absence from home and then rebuilding it to cook the dinner.

I once saw a child of 10 in a room strewed with shavings and ashes try to make a fire by placing the coal on the bottom of the grate and lighting from the top the kindling and paper that were laid over it. In families that were receiving coal given in charity—I have repeatedly seen red hot stoves packed full of coal, the drafts all open and the heat going up the chimney. The doing away with the heat of a stove in the living room during the summer months is no small contribution to the health and good temper of the inmates.—Lucia True Ames in New England Magazine.

Pipe Smokers' Paradise.

In Washington a man may place his good old brier pipe in his shapely mouth and walk around town smoking according to the dictates of his own conscience, none daring to make him afraid. It is not so in all parts of the country. There are places where such conduct would bring him under police surveillance and cause him to be ostracized by society. There has long been a deep rooted prejudice against the pipe. A man might appear in public smoking a cigar that would cause horses to swoon three blocks away and nobody would say anything, but if he smoked a pipe on the streets his social doom was sealed. Reason, however, has resumed her majestic sway, leveled the barriers of superstition and conquered the armed hosts of prejudice, and as a result the man who smokes is happy.—Washington News.

A Conditional Marriage Fee.

The following is told by a pastor of a village church about eight miles from Boston. He was sitting in his library one evening recently when a knock on the door came. He answered and found a couple who desired to be united in matrimony. The pastor asked them into his parlor and performed the marriage ceremony, after which the groom handed him a sealed envelope supposed to have contained the usual compensation. The happy couple departed, and the reverend gentleman opened the envelope and found the following note:

"If she turns out as well as I think she will I will come back and pay you for your services." Boston Record.

Borrowing From Neighbors.

A little girl was sent into a neighbor's house the other evening to borrow a copy of the paper. She departed with the treasure, but returned a few minutes later with the request that the man of the house should loan her mother his spectacles. "Well, by George!" ejaculated the astonished citizen, "isn't that asking a little too much?" "No, indeed," answered the little girl. "mother says you won't need your glasses as long as she has your newspaper; you can spare them just as well as not." He spared them.—Richmond (Me.) Bee.

Hot Climates and Long Sightedness.

People who have lived long in hot climates like India become presbyopic four or five years earlier than they would otherwise have done, for life in a hot climate naturally means excessive wear and tear to a European. The ordinary age for the adoption of spectacles for reading used to be 50, while it is now nearer 45.—New York Tribune.

Babylon's Hanging Gardens.

The hanging gardens of Babylon were terraces on columns. The gardens were 400 feet square and over 400 feet high. The ascent from terrace to terrace was by flights of marble steps, and on the highest was a large reservoir.—St Louis Globe-Democrat.

Both Were Nervous.

At a duel the combatants discharged their pistols without effect, whereupon one of the seconds interfered and proposed that the duelists should shake hands. To this the other second objected as unnecessary. "Their hands," said he, "have been shaking this half hour."—Exchange.

A DOMESTIC HERO.

A Business Man Who Has Devoted Himself to Making a Woman Happy.

I came across a hero the other day. He looked much the same as everyday mankind. He did not know he was a hero, nor did I until he had left the party in which I met him. Domestic heroism, that of the privacy of home, with no Victoria cross or congressional medal dangling before it as a possibility, is, after all, perhaps the noblest of all heroism. Here was a great, strong, healthy and wealthy man, fond of outdoor sports, of travel, of the activity of a busy commercial career—one who in his youth was a man's man rather than a woman's. Fifteen years ago he married, and in a few years there came three children into the household.

It had been a happy family. He has been a kindly husband as husbands go, and she a pleasant and dutiful wife. Out of the night came paralysis to her—a new life to him. Since that time his career has been entirely altered. His business was quickly arranged so he could be frequently absent from his office. He was father, mother, nurse, teacher, companion and playmate compressed in one domestic providence. Never had woman more devoted attendant nor more faithful and intelligent nurse.

All the little questions of housekeeping and of the care and training of children, of their clothing, their pleasures and their pains, fell to him, and in his hands they have been managed with a wisdom and care absolutely wonderful. This has been, remember, something of 10 years' standing, and it has grown instead of lessening. Outside of his comparatively casual attention to business his horizon is confined to the walls of his home. To make the wife forget her burden of affliction and be a happy woman through it all has been his happiness, and with such a spirit he could not fail.

They travel about considerably, this family, and all the details are taken care of by him. No hired nurses or governesses are permitted to usurp any of his duties, although there is one of each there at hand as his representative in times of enforced absence. So skillfully is all this done, so modestly is it carried out, that even the chief beneficiary does not realize what is occurring—and that is his reward. "They do not build Westminster abbeys nowadays," said a friend of mine once, and I thought of his remark when I heard the story of this man, for the supply of heroes at this time is far below the demand.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Taste In Animals.

Many experiments have been made in order to find out what and where the organ of taste is in the lower creations; but it is easier to say where it is not. Crayfish and worms seem to have very decided preferences in the matter of food, though no special taste organ has been found. Lobsters like decaying food; the crab is more dainty in its diet.

Snails and slugs show a decided preference for certain kinds of food, as garden lovers know to their cost; peas and cabbages, dahlias and sunflowers are great favorites, but they will not touch the white mustard. Some prefer animal food, especially if rather high. Spiders have only a slight sense of taste; flies soaked in paraffin seem quite palatable to them, though one species, the diadema, is somewhat more particular and refuses to touch alcohol in any form whatever.—Chambers' Journal.

Children Must Sleep.

There is nothing that little folks need so much or that helps their physical development so largely as plenty of sleep. Until they are 15 years old they should have at least 10 hours of nature's great restorer. An authority on such matters says that they never should be awakened, but allowed to sleep until of their own accord they are ready to get up. School and household duties, however, make such a course impracticable, but if they are put to bed early enough they will be quite ready to rise without calling at a reasonable hour. Bedtime can be made pleasant by the telling of a story or a few especially loving ministrations and caresses that will make this hour a period to be anticipated rather than dreaded.—St. Louis Republic.

"August Flower"

What Is It For?

This is the query perpetually on your little boy's lips. And he is no worse than the bigger, older, balder-headed boys. Life is an interrogation point. "What is it for?" we continually cry from the cradle to the grave. So with this little introductory sermon we turn and ask: "What is AUGUST FLOWER FOR?" As easily answered as asked: It is for Dyspepsia. It is a special remedy for the Stomach and Liver. Nothing more than this; but this brimful. We believe August Flower cures Dyspepsia. We know it will. We have reasons for knowing it. Twenty years ago it started in a small country town. To-day it has an honored place in every city and country store, possesses one of the largest manufacturing plants in the country and sells everywhere. Why is this? The reason is as simple as a child's thought. It is honest, does one thing, and does it right along—it cures Dyspepsia.

My wife was troubled with nervousness about one year before she took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, and at that time had very severe attacks of spasm convulsion, and pains in different parts of the body; when in this state her lower jaws would set violently and set sometimes, bite her tongue, breathe heavily, then snored, then seemed to stop entirely, get a wild look in her eyes and collin around them stop sometimes; it would take two men to hold her in bed otherwise her body would cramp and be so for two hours. She took but two bottles of the Nerve Tonic, which cured her entirely of all these torments, which myself and wife gladly testify it truly had the desired effect. D. S. M'GILLIS.

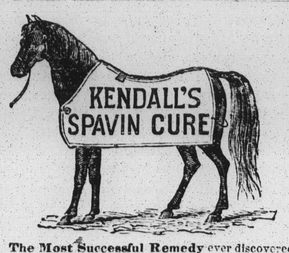

Mrs. Ester Dovilbiss, 354 S. Tenth street, San Jose, Cal., writes, October 1892: Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic has indeed done wonders in my part of the country. There has been bought in my neighborhood over $5.0 worth.

OUR NEW 1893 FLOWER SEED OFFER.

A Magnificent Collection of FLOWER SEEDS 200 Varieties, FREE!

An Unparalleled Offer by an Old-Established and Reliable Publishing House!

THE LADIES' WORLD is a large 20-page, 80-column illustrated Magazine for ladies and the family circle; it is devoted to stories, poems, ladies' fancy work, artistic needlework, home decoration, housekeeping, fashions, hygiene, juvenile reading, etiquette, etc. To introduce this charming ladies' paper into 100,000 homes where it is not already taken, we now make the following colossal offer: Upon receipt of only 12 Cents in silver or stamps, we will send The Ladies' World for Three Months, and to each subscriber we will also send Free and postpaid, a large and magnificent Collection of Choice Flower Seeds, two hundred varieties, including Pansies, Verbenas, Chrysanthemums, Asters, Phlox Drummondi, Balsam, Cypress Vine, Stocks, Digitalis, Double Zinnia, Pinks, etc., etc. Remember, twelve cents pays for the magazine three months and this entire magnificent Collection of Choice Flower Seeds, put up by a first-class Seed House and warranted fresh and reliable. No lady can afford to miss this wonderful opportunity. We guarantee every subscriber many times the value of money sent, and will refund your money and make you a present of both seeds and Magazine if you are not satisfied. Ours is an old and reliable publishing house, endorsed by all the leading newspapers. We have received hundreds of testimonials from pleased patrons during the past five years: "I had beautiful flowers from the seeds you sent me two years ago, and from experience know the seeds are exactly as advertised."—Mrs. R. C. Bayrn, Dana, Wis. "Myself and friends have sent for various things advertised by you, and have found them to be entirely satisfactory."—M. J. Davis, Brooklyn, N. Y. Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher (a regular subscriber), and Grace Greenwood, each ordered our seeds last season. Do not confound this offer with the catchpenny schemes of unscrupulous persons. Write to-day—don't put it off! Six subscriptions and six Seed Collections sent for 60 cents.

SPECIAL OFFER! To any lady sending us 15 cents in addition to the 12 cents for above offer, and naming the paper in which she saw this advertisement, we will send, free, in addition to all the above, one packet of the celebrated Eckford Sweet Peas, embracing all the newest varieties, including Boreatton, Ben Eckford, Splendor, The Queen, Orange Prince, Apple Blossom, etc. Sweet Peas are the most popular and fashionable bouquet flowers now cultivated, and the Eckford Varieties which we offer, are the largest, finest and most celebrated known. They grow to a height of 6 feet, and produce for three months a continuous profusion of fragrant blooms of the most brilliant coloring.

ANOTHER GREAT OFFER! Upon receipt of Thirty-five Cents (our regular subscription price) we will send The Ladies' World for One Year, together with our magnificent Collection of Choice Flower Seeds above described, likewise one packet of the extensively advertised and justly celebrated Eckford Sweet Peas. Address:

S. H. MOORE & CO., 37 Park Place, New York.
